

Nine Await Induction Into Tau Kappa Alpha

Chosen on the basis of scholarship and oratorical ability, nine Loyola students tomorrow night will be inducted into Tau Kappa Alpha, National Honor Forensic Fraternity, at their banquet at the Hotel Stafford.

Those selected are Terrence E. Burke, John C. Evelius, Donald E. Fay, Francis X. Gallagher, Winston T. Kourey, J. Allan Panuska, John H. Plunkett, Edward F. Shea and Dudley M. Shoemaker.

James A. Perrott

Potter Guest Of Honor

Mr. James A. Perrott, Loyola's faculty sponsor of TKA, has announced that Dr. David Potter of Rutgers University will be the guest of honor.

Dr. Potter will make the presentation of the TKA charter to the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College. The Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., Dean, will be present.

Installation Planned

Following induction of the members, the four newly elected officers will be installed by Father Talbot. Shea was voted president last month, and Fay was chosen vice-president. Evelius was elected secretary and Gallagher treasurer of the organization.

Mr. Perrott was instrumental in obtaining the charter for Loyola, which will be the first Jesuit college in the nation to be accepted into the fraternity. He attended the recent convention in Indiana and made tentative plans there for the college's entrance.

James W. Bradley, Art Editor of THE GREYHOUND, is handling the task of printing invitations and name cards, Shea reports.

The nine men to be inducted are regular subscribers to The Speaker, the national Tau Kappa Alpha magazine.

Dr. Doehler Heads CYO Program

Dr. Edward A. Doehler, Professor of History in the Evening School and Adult Education, has accepted the invitation of the Catholic Youth Organization to be chairman of its program to train parish lay adult leaders.

The training courses will begin in October. Dr. Doehler will aid in planning courses and selecting teaching personnel.

Council Invalidates July '49 Class Nominations

In a heated discussion which lasted for more than an hour, the Student Council last Tuesday afternoon voted to invalidate the nominations which were taken from members of the July 1949 class for president of that group during the past two weeks.

Certain factions in the '49 class had appealed to the council for the reopening of nominations since certain conditions necessary for a valid election had been violated. The factions did not wish, however, the seven men already nominated to be deposed, but wished to list additional nominees for the offices which were open.

All Invalid

Council members were well divided over the issue, but after several amendments, agreed that all seven nominees were invalid, and that the actual nominations would be held next week, as soon as a complete class list is compiled.

The council believed that since there was no class list available, since the three necessary council members were not present to supervise the voting and counting of ballots, since the electioneering went on for four days instead of the usual one and since it was not in the council's minutes that an election was to be held, it was necessary to cancel all the nominations.

Recess Declared

The meeting developed into such a debate that E. Clinton Bamberger,

President of the Student Council, declared a ten minute recess during the discussion and ordered copies of the Student Constitution for every council representative. Edward J. McNeal, Parliamentarian, was asked frequently for interpretations of various clauses in the Constitution.

Final elections were to have been held last Friday, but were postponed until the Council gave its decision. With the council's declaring of the entire proceedings invalid, nominations will have to be deferred until sometime next week. Members of the class are requested to watch The Greyhound Daily Bulletin for time and place of the meeting.

Senior Sodality

Richard Reese was elected Prefect of the Senior Sodality and James Oaster became Vice-President in elections held on June 10, the Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S. J., moderator, announced.

Richard Milholland was voted to the post of secretary, formerly held by Reese. Raymond Lelii was elected treasurer.

Father Higgins announced that two members from the Sodality will be sent as delegates to the Summer School of Catholic Action which will be held in Washington, D. C.

Night School Gives CYO Two Scholarships

Loyola College's Evening School and Adult Education is offering two scholarships in each of the academic years 1948-49 and 1949-50 to the Catholic Youth Organization. The Rev. John E. Wise, S. J., Dean of the Evening School, made the announcement.

Each scholarship is for a full four year college course or its equivalent in college credit, and covers half of the tuition. The scholarships are open to members of parishes in Baltimore and immediate vicinity, who are high school graduates, but not in college.

College Administers Test

Candidates who wish to apply for the scholarships will be notified by the Baltimore CYO Office of the date, time and place to report for their aptitude test. The college will administer the test, which will be a means of determining the selection of the candidates.

On the basis of personal interview, a special CYO Board will make the final selections from the candidates who have successfully passed the test.

Must Meet Requirements

Those candidates wishing to work towards a college degree must meet the school's entrance requirements and will be required to take the regular prescribed courses of study leading to a bachelor's degree.

Three Receive Ph. D. Degrees

Four members of the faculty of Loyola College were the recipients of degrees at the recent commencement exercises at Johns Hopkins University. The Rev. Richard Ingram, S. J., Philip Edward Kaltenbach and John V. Walsh were made Doctors of Philosophy at the ceremonies.

Mr. William Moran, S. J., of the Loyola College Faculty, received his Masters of Arts at the Commencement. Mr. Moran is from Chicago Province and studied Hebrew under Dr. Allbright. He will return to Hopkins in the Fall to start work on his Ph.D.

Both Doctor Kaltenbach and Doctor Walsh are instructors in the English Department at Loyola.

Graduated In 1942

Dr. Kaltenbach was graduated from Loyola in 1942, and entered the armed forces. Since his return from the Army in February, 1946, he has been an instructor in English at Evergreen. He was also admitted to the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Fraternity.

At present, he is conducting classes here in Classical Literature and Speech.

C. C. N. Y. Alumnus

Dr. Walsh, who has been Instructor in Semitics at Hopkins since September, 1947, was graduated from the College of the City of New York in 1931. He received his M. A. from Fordham University in 1934. In New York, he was a teacher at Regis High School, Loyola High School, Notre Dame College on Staten Island and the Fordham School of Education.

He is faculty moderator of the Classics Club here at Loyola.

News In Brief

Frank Timothy Parr, Jr., of the January 1947 class of Loyola, received his M. S. Degree in Organic Chemistry at the graduation exercises at Fordham University on Wednesday, June 9. Parr was formerly Sports Editor of THE GREYHOUND.

John C. Evelius and Lawrence R. Mooney have formed the Portable Recording Company, and are now making records of the hit songs from Marelyn to be sold to those interested. They also plan to record weddings, banquets, etc.

Several students of the college, led by William Schulz, are planning to organize a Loyola chapter of the Third Order of St. Francis, a religious organization which constitutes a lay order of the Franciscans. All those interested should contact Schultz.

E. Clinton Bamberger and Edward J. McNeal will represent Loyola College at the annual National Student Association's convention in Madison, Wisconsin on August 20.

The Senior Sodality is now conducting meetings every Thursday morning at 8:15 a. m. in room 204. The Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S. J., is moderator of the group.

George Herman leaves on June 23 for Boston College, where he will attend the Summer School of Dramatic Arts.

Class Elections: A Sad, Sick Situation

Class elections have degenerated into a melee which could easily furnish competition to Barnum and Bailey's little circus. The only distinguishable difference between the two is that Loyola's class elections are spontaneous and unrehearsed whereas the circus performers go into winter quarters to make plans for their laughable antics.

In the first place, the majority of the members of the classes are not at all concerned whether or not their class president is a three year old baby or an eighty-five year old claimant to the throne of Luxemburg. They care not if their class has no organization.

There are those who say that they care, but that the "clique" will win regardless of how the rest of the class votes. They fail to realize that they could perform as ably as the hateful clique if they exerted a little energy. But at the very utterance of that word "work", a painful expression shoots across their faces and their muscles are seized with a type of paralytic malady which is more commonly known as laziness.

The third type of student voter which struts the stage is that group which reduces the election to a popularity contest. Vote for Jim Goodfellow. He's a good guy. He never disagrees with anyone because he never expresses an opinion of his own. Jim has no ability as an organizer or as an administrator, but Jim loves mankind. He upholds the status quo and will fight to his political death for the observance of the Golden Rule.

Finally there is that small minority which scans the field and singles out the men who will be of most benefit to the class as officers. They do their best to see that these men are elected. But in too many instances, these men are overlooked and the Class commits itself to a full year of miserable mismanagement or gross inactivity.

So naturally when elections are due a year later, the class demonstrates how much it has learned by electing the same type of class officer.

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Graduate Degrees

Two issues ago we asked for information on graduate degrees received by Alumni members at the conclusion of this scholastic year. To date only a few items have been received by the Alumni Office. We realize that the new Masters and Doctors, Lawyers and Physicians are very busy men. But we do want to pass on to their classmates the good news of their graduation. The list of degrees will be published in the next issue of Alumni Doings, the deadline for which will be Friday, June 25. Notices received by the Alumni Office by this date will be included in the following issue of THE GREYHOUND. How about it? Can we depend on you to send us the information? Thanks!

Alumnus Phi Beta Kappa

P. Edward Kaltenbach, '42, a member of the Faculty of Loyola College and recent recipient of his Ph.D. Degree in the Classics at Johns Hopkins University, is also the proud wearer of the coveted key of the Phi Beta Kappa. Congratulations, Ed!

Final Executive Meeting Of Season

The final meeting of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association for the summer season will be held in the Faculty Building at Evergreen on Friday, June 25, at 8:15 p. m. President W. J. O'Donnell announces that at this meeting all outstanding business of the Association will be concluded. On this occasion Dance Committee Chairman J. Joseph Curran will make his final report on the highly successful Alumni Dance held on Saturday, May 22. After vacation during July and August, the Executive Committee will resume its regular monthly meetings in September. During the summer months the Editor of Alumni Doings is always ready to receive news items about Alumni members and their activities. Keep sending them in. The Chairman of the Membership Committee, Jerome J. Egan, is also on hand to receive dues and sustaining membership fees from those who have delayed sending their checks. Help the Association to become more active by becoming active members!

July 15-17 Listed For Final Exams

Final examinations for the spring term will begin on Thursday, July 15 and continue on Friday and Saturday, July 16 and 17. As in May, anyone attaining an average of 90% or better in any subject will be automatically exempt from the exam.

According to a recent announcement from the office of the Dean of Studies, exams in speech will be given at the discretion of the teacher.

Pins Awarded At Staff Banquet

Thirty-two staff members attended the annual GREYHOUND Banquet given in the Cafeteria on Monday, June 7.

Mr. Paul T. Broderick, Assistant City Editor of the Evening Sun and Instructor in Journalism in the Evening School and Adult Education, spoke at the dinner.

Pins Awarded

Staff members receiving their GREYHOUND pins included: Austin Byrd, Thomas Comber, Spencer Davidson, Charles Kimmel, James Norris, Thomas Padden, Joseph Parlett and Jack Phillips. These pins are given to graduating staff members who do outstanding work on the paper during their time in college.

The awards, consisting of a GREYHOUND with an "L" suspended from a chain were presented by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College.

Former Editors Speak

Speakers at the dinner were Fr. Talbot, Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., Moderator, Mr. Broderick, Francis X. Gallagher, present Editor, and former Editors, Terrence E. Burke, John H. Plunkett and Spencer L. Davidson.

The banquet of turkey and the trimmings was prepared and served by the Slater System in the Acorn room of the Cafeteria.

Meet The Faculty:

New Faculty Instructor Teaches English, Drama

by C. Rodgers Kines

The Spring Term has brought a number of new additions to the Loyola College Faculty. This issue, Meet the Faculty presents Mr. Cornelius F. Moxley, a Loyola graduate, now a member of the English Department, teaching Modern Drama.

In completing work for his M. A. degree, which he hopes to receive by the end of the summer, Mr. Moxley is writing his thesis on "The Catholic Critics of John Milton."

Majoring In Latin, Greek

He attended Catholic University for three and a half years and then transferred here to finish his final semester, majoring in Latin and Greek, to receive his A. B. degree from Loyola in 1944.

After graduation he taught in schools conducted by the Xaverian Brothers in Maryland and New York. Following this, he became Instructor of English and History at Loyola High School for a year. Previous to his arrival at Loyola, he taught English for two years at University of Maryland.

Likes Sports And Theater

When questioned on his favorite sports, Mr. Moxley said he particularly liked tennis and swimming; as to his preferred entertainment, he specified, "the worthy productions of the theater."

His main interests lie in teaching specialized professions and working on the study of library science.

Actors, Debaters Attend Picnic

The combined Debating Society, Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society and the cast of Marelyn were entertained at a picnic at the home of William Sehlhorst in the Delaney Valley, last Friday, June 18.

The group left Loyola College by car at 1:30 p.m. and spent the afternoon swimming, playing ball, cards and milking the cows.

The picnic was arranged by Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., moderator of the three groups.

The picnickers returned in groups arriving at Loyola around 6:00 p.m.

Temporary Editors Appointed For 1949 Evergreen Annual

Temporary editors of the 1949 Evergreen were appointed by the president of the student council and class officers early this week.

Since representatives from a photography company from Philadelphia visited the campus yesterday to discuss arrangements for next year's annual, the tentative board of editors from the three classes of 1949, January, May and July, was necessary.

Editors Appointed

E. Clinton Bamberger, student council head, appointed Donald E. Fay as temporary Editor-in-Chief, Calvert Kenning as Business Manager and James K. Lightner as Photography Editor.

Associate editors from the respective classes were drawn up pending change. Those appointed were William Mackey, Francis X. Gallagher, Albert Fitzgerald and Frank Griffin. Raymond E. Parr was appointed Sports Editor.

Officers To Meet

Officers of the three classes are due to meet during the next week to discuss the appointments, make any necessary changes and advise the tentative staff of their decisions.

The staff intends to open its advertising and patron drives during the Spring Term, and hopes to have all contracts completed with printer, photographer and engraver before the beginning of school in September.

Staff Meeting

The complete staff will hold a meeting within the next few weeks to determine the final positions and to welcome all persons wishing to work on the annual.

The Rev. Joseph A. D'Invilliers, S. J., is moderator of the Evergreen.

Four Top Hit Parade Songs Are Dog Tunes - By Unknown Author

by Dick Coleman

'Tis a funny thing the way things work out in the world of music as far as popular records are concerned. It can easily and truthfully be stated here that records and radio, of course, have made most of the popular singers of today. And, it is these singers who have put across the songs of today and yesterday.

Now the essence of this here now cotton-pickin' thought is that an unusual situation has cropped up this week as far as the ten-top tunes are concerned. They line up this-a-way: Nature Boy, You Can't Be True Dear, Now Is The Hour, Toolie, Oollie, Doolie, Baby Face, Little White Lies, The Dickey Bird Song, My Happiness, Sabre Dance and Manana.

The first three of these tunes, plus My Happiness are dog tunes. This means that they emanate from unknown authors and are supposedly corny as far as the big-wigs in the industry are concerned. Most of you know the story behind Nature Boy, written by a character who has walked across the States several times in his bare-feet. Toolie, Oollie, Doolie was stolen from a folk song chanted in a small town somewhere in the Alps. Still further into the mystery, I bet Katchiturian loves the way they're treating his Sabre Dance.

Another point of interest I picked up this week comes from a buddy who distributes RCA discs to the radio stations. He made mention of the fact that a Mr. Don Cornell, vocalist with Sammy Kaye's Band, is the only thing that's holding that band together financially or rather as far as the record sales are concerned. Here's the reason. The only thing that is really sellable on records today is male vocalists. So, all you Crosby aspirants—get on the ball. That just about does it, lover.

Glee Club Entertains At Jenkins Memorial Hospital

The Loyola Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Felice Iula, conductor, presented an entertainment program at the Jenkins Memorial annex to the St. Agnes Hospital on Sunday, June 13, at 2:00 p. m.

The program was an abbreviated version of the Club's annual concert, which was held at the Alcazar on April 8.

Sang Fifteen Numbers

The group sang approximately fifteen numbers, among which were Kentucky Babe, Dry Bones, and The Bells of St. Mary's.

Albert Fitzgerald, tenor, Louis Batzler, bass, and James Dietz, bass, were soloists. William Yanuzzi, pianist, accompanied the group.

Plans Fall Concert

The Glee Club had a full schedule for the 1947-48 school year. In addition to its Spring Concert, the Club participated in both Loyola Nights, presented several Christmas programs, supplied a chorus for Marelyn, and sang on numerous occasions.

At present, the Club plans no further activity for the Spring Term, but schedules another concert for next October.

Chess Club

The Loyola Chess Club met at the home of Robert Bordley, president, on June 11.

At the meeting a tentative match with the Maryland Chess Club for tonight was decided upon. The members also planned to continue their Friday night meetings throughout the Spring Term.

Club May Enter Tournaments

The Club may enter several members, including Loyola Champion Richard Ravenal, in the National Open Chess Championship Tournament, which will be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel from July 5 to 17.

A Loyola entrant may also compete in the National Junior Championship Tournament, to be held in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, this summer. The American Chess Federation will pay all of the entrant's traveling and living expenses.

Had Full Year

During the 1947-48 school year, the Chess Club played in many matches, including tilts with the University of Maryland, Georgetown University, the Maryland Chess Club, and the Polytechnic Institute.

The Club sent Richard Ravenal and Thomas Comber to the National Intercollegiate Chess Tournament, which was conducted at Columbia University from December 26-30, 1947.

Accounting Club

The Accounting Club plans to hold a meeting in the near future to determine when and where to hold its end-of-the-year party. After the party, the Club will disband until September.

The Accounting Club recently conducted an election of officers, at which John Currey and Harry Falon were chosen president and vice-president, respectively.

New Catalogs Due First Week In July

The 1948-49 catalog for the Loyola Day School will be published during the first week in July. It will be approximately the same size as last year's.

The Rev. Joseph A. d'Invernieri, S.J., will teach a new course on The History of Communism, which is being offered during the Spring Term.

Night School Offers Russian

The new Evening School catalog will also appear around the first week in July.

The Evening School curriculum for 1948-49 will be the broadest in the School's history and will offer classes in Russian and Nursing. Twenty new instructors have also been added.

Four-Year Course

Approximately 250 freshmen will be admitted to the Day School in September. They will be the first class to register for the full four-year course since 1942.

At present there are almost 700 students in the Day School and 307 in the Evening School.

Frosh Schedule Saturday Picnic

The English I-1 and I-2 sections of the Freshman Class will hold a picnic on the estate of Mr. William Sehlhorst, in the Delaney Valley, tomorrow.

The group will meet at the College at 9:30 in the morning, and then will go to the picnic site together.

Baseball And Swimming

Baseball, swimming, and other events will be available to the Freshmen. Food will be supplied by the Picnic Committee.

A tentative price of $1.00 per person has been set, depending on the number attending. The Committee advises that all Freshmen who wish to go should sign up in the office of Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J.

Evans Heads Committee

The Picnic Committee is headed by William Evans, who is assisted by Charles Guemple.

Edward Clarke, president of the Freshman Class, also helped in the picnic preparations.

Food Ahoy

One of the most fiercely contested battles since David met big Goliath will take place in the cafeteria next Monday at 12:30. At that time, little Jake Jacobowsky of Loyola will tangle horns with big Mr. X, 325 pound giant from Chilcoat College. "Steaks" won't be as great in the local fray as they were in the Biblical match since the battle here will be an Eating Marathon.

When Jake weighed in at the bookstore this week, it was noted that his chest was 58" normal and 58½" expanded and that's a record right there. His 6' 3" opponent is reported to have a 65" wingspan.

The food has been tossed into the lion's den free of charge by the Slater System.

The menu, a tasty little thing, has been submitted and a crew of tired chefs has been putting things in readiness. If you don't think the Alka Seltzer Company isn't looking forward to an all time sales high, then feast your eyes on the menu.

One pint of tomato juice, a bowl of lettuce and tomato salad, five hamburgers, five hot dogs, a double sized steak, a double order of French fried potatoes and cole slaw.

After the preliminaries, they go into the meat of the contest. There follows an entire roast chicken, two pounds of stuffing, three pints of milk and one large pie.

And what does the conqueror win? A free meal, of course.

A Little Help

A veteran working in a local factory was taking a certain Correspondence Course which would be of great benefit to him in his work. The employer was also interested and had a number of his men take the same course.

However, after three or four lessons, this particular vet became disgusted and decided to drop the course. At this point, his wife secretly began to do the lessons and she sent them into headquarters with her husband's name on them.

You can imagine the husband's surprise when his employer called him into his office and told him that he had received the highest mark in the course and that consequently he would be promoted with a handsome increase in wages.

Was it Kipling who said, "A woman is only a woman but a good cigar is a smoke?"

Quarterly Will Feature Winning Contest Stories

The Evergreen Quarterly, Loyola's literary magazine, will be published during the second week in July. This will be the final edition for the 1947-48 school year.

Following the new two-color format used in the April issue, the Quarterly will contain surrealistic photographs by James Lightner, staff photographer, as well as poems and stories by Loyola students.

Contest Winners Featured

Featured in the July issue will be the winning stories of the Loyola Literary Contest.

The Contest was held in conjunction with Chesterfield Representative Robert Dorsey, who supplied prizes of cigarettes worth $50.

Guest Article On Crime

The guest article will be "Crime And Its Detection" by Henry C. Freimuth, Ph.D.

Dr. Freimuth is toxicologist for the State of Maryland and a member of the Loyola faculty.

Dr. Henry Zangara Engaged To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. George Nicholas Roussos, of Popular Ridge Point, Anne Arundel County, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Mary, to Dr. Henry F. Zangara, of Glen Burnie.

Miss Roussos is a graduate of Mt. St. Agnes' College, and has a degree from Mercy Hospital. Dr. Zangara, a graduate of Loyola and the Georgetown University's School of Medicine, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zangara, of Glen Burnie.

The Critilog

by George Herman

Since this scribe will head Boston-way in a few weeks to cover the "pre-Broadway" season there for THE GREYHOUND, I think this series of articles should terminate on a Broadway note rather than a Hollywood one.

The sure-fire formula for a good New York showing is to stage the musical revue which is not too complicated, and with two or three stars who can sing loud—if not well—and it usually results in a "hit" at the box-office. This season the Great White Way has given birth to such revues as High Button Shoes, basing this thin story around Phil Silvers and a ballet by Jerome Robbins; Inside USA which had nothing to do with the book by the same name but a great deal to do with Jack Haley and Bea Lillie; Angel In The Wings centered around the comedy-satire of the Hartmans and a wonderful musical score, and the semi-revue Look Ma, I'm Dancing!

Angel was given stage-birth at the Boston Summer Theatre where the audience gets to see future Broadway material for a dollar a seat, provided they register either profound joy or dismay at the offering. If the show is a veritable stinker—like the prevue of last season's A Highland Fling—the audience even talks back to the actors.

No one can quite identify the element in some shows that result in the "turkies"—of flops. Last season the giant extravaganza Praise Allah failed after only two weeks and resulted in a loss of over $40,000. The same fate befell Dream With Music! described by the critics as an eye-filling bore. But whatever makes a flop a flop can readily be discerned at a pre-Broadway showing. This is what they attempt to do in Boston. And in Boston they usually manage to do what they think they can do. Remember the Tea Party many years ago that wasn't given on Beacon Street?

Newspaper Doctors

A newspaper, says the handbook, is supposed to report the news. It is not supposed to interpret mental illnesses. However, the intelligence of the American reading public is being daily insulted by a brand of newspaper column which pretends to gaze into your neurotic eyes and tell you in three or four lines to what class of frustrated mankind you belong.

From isolated cases which have occurred in Siberia thirty years ago, the writer of this nerve-tingling column draws generalities which indicate that the reader has been secretly possessed by a gnawing hatred for his mother, a schizophrenic personality and an acute case of Housemaid's Knee.

Subjects of elephantine stupidity are daily discussed with a straight face. Illustrations of a questionable nature are tossed in to gain the reader's attention. Fifty percent of the time, these illustrations have as much to do with the topic as beer does with talcum powder.

It is time that some action was taken to bring these sickening displays of juvenile mental gymnastics to an end. If these raving usurpers of the public trust are allowed to continue these imbecilic activities, they will convince the American people that sanity is a lost cause.

The Old Order

Time makes many changes, says Tennyson, and by the time the next issue of THE GREYHOUND is published, Loyola will have felt the loss of several of her faculty members.

We shall not attempt to single out any particular men for recognition but rather we should like to thank them collectively for all the efforts which they have expended for Loyola.

Those who have worked here for the past several years have contributed substantially to the welfare and name of Loyola. They have guided the students in the glorious traditions of a Jesuit institution, they have lived the lives of true teachers.

Now they move on to other work and new men will come to replace them. Though they leave no copper plaques on the corridor walls nor marble statues on the campus green, they leave behind them a substantial remembrance, the fruit of their labor in the hearts of their students.

MOVIES

The Hippodrome brings forth another opus concerning the ape-like doings of Tarzan and Jane, the society leaders of deepest, darkest Africa, the title—Tarzan And The Mermaids. Once again, in spite of the mermaids, the apes steal the show.

The Century presents muscle man MacMurray, perpetual villain Dan Duryea and petite Ann Blythe in Lower Part Of The Forest.

The Town promises a humorous picture, well worth seeing, entitled Smart Women and starring witty Barry Sullivan pitted against acid-tongued Connie Bennett. Brian Aherne enacts the romantic male lead.

The New gives forth with a refreshing technicolor musical-comedy Give My Regards To Broadway starring Dancing Dan Dailey,

The Women

This week the women were in the news. According to a story in Varsity, Cambridge University's weekly newspaper, an undergraduate from South Africa had argued the merits of polygamy, and in doing so, had brought out a very interesting point. He stated that the main qualification for marriage on the part of the woman in South Africa is that she knows how to cook.

Civilized peoples may profit from the wisdom of their barbarous brothers. We do not contend that this ability to cook be the principal forte of young American womanhood, but it would indeed be a blessing to many children yet to be born and many husbands yet to be married if our young women did become more proficient with the implements of the kitchen.

We suggest that young ladies be tutored in the art of using a frying pan in capacities other than chastising their husbands. Digestion would be aided and it would not be a surprising thing if the divorce rate were to take a fatal dip.

It can be argued that learning to cook should take precedence over many of the subjects now being taught in colleges for women. What is the good of mastering political science when it is impossible to keep peace in the home due to the distraught tempers of martyred husbands trying to eat what their wives have tried to prepare?

Of what use is the art of the dance when ill-prepared meals produce so uncomfortable a feeling that it is agonizing to push your weight around on the ballroom floor?

Good News

The Junior Classes which combined to sponsor the Prom on June 4th at the Belvedere are to be congratulated. The succeeded in offering the student body a well-planned, cleverly-staged dance.

The floor was not overcrowded. The ballroom was not over-heated. The music was not too loud. The conduct was not too boisterous. In short, the Junior Prom was just right.

It is heartening to see such a successful dance. Most class officers feel that they are inviting financial destruction by throwing a dance for Loyola students. Even when the dance is financially sound, there always seems to be a number of gripes about some phase of the dance.

The Junior Prom was a notable exception. Let us hope that this is the beginning of a new era in Loyola's social activities. Perhaps the apathy and indifference to the student-sponsored affairs is at last dissolving itself.

Certainly, it is about time. Activity has been paralyzed too long at Loyola. Perhaps, the students are realizing that college means more than classroom work.

Twenty Issues

For the first time in its history, THE GREYHOUND has published twenty issues in one year. Two are yet to be published. This increase in the frequency has meant that the Staff members have had to be more generous with their precious spare time. It has meant that they have had to sacrifice their Sunday afternoons working on the paper when they could have been at home enjoying themselves with their families.

The Editor wishes to thank them publicly. Their contribution to Loyola has been a valuable one.

They have had the joy of knowing that they have done their best. They are to be congratulated.

LETTERS

Dear Sir:

What is THE GREYHOUND trying to do? Every time you turn around, it seems to be looking for a fight with someone. I have always believed that its sole function should be to report the events as they happen at Loyola.

However it appears that recently all the Editors want to do is to start a fight. Take a look at the recent editorials. I don't mind jumping on the Communists but this idea of attacking those who are college educated (See issue of June 4), veterans who did not vote (See issue of May 7), Southern Democrats (See issue of May 21) is carrying things a bit too far.

College students are supposed to listen to what those with practical experience tell them. They are not supposed to tell their elders what is wrong with the world or how to run organizations which they know nothing about.

I believe that your paper would be doing itself, the students and the alumni a great service by confining itself to college news. When you are all a bit older and have had a little more experience with the realities of everyday living, you will be qualified to give your opinions and remedies for the ills of the world. Until that time, I suggest you spend a little more time digesting the worthwhile material to be found in your textbooks.

After you have capably fulfilled your duties at school, you may be called upon to conquer the world.

Running With The Hounds

Cronin's Future Bright;
Managers Merit Praise

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

Whenever a group of golf addicts get together and drift into a discussion concerning which clubs in a golfer's collection contribute most to the fine points of his game, you can usually expect a split into two extremes.

More than likely one side will maintain that a good, hot putter is the answer to any man's dream of shooting in the low '70s; but on the other hand there are the guys who swear by a long, straight drive down the middle of the fairway as the chief means of cutting down those strokes.

If you ask Jack Cronin, Loyola's Maryland Intercollegiate golf champ, his answer will show that he plays best in the middle of these two arguments.

Accurate With Long Irons

Jack picks up most of his advantage on the basis of deadly accuracy to the pin with his long irons. It is this phase of the game, stroking from the fairway onto the green, that has made the youngster one of the most promising linksmen to come along in quite a while.

Not since the early years of the present decade, when Johnny Farrell was pacing Greyhound swingers, have the Green and Gray forces possessed such a consistently low shooter.

The poorest Loyola team record compiled during the past spring was posted by the thinclads of the cinder path. However, Bill McElroy's squad also boasted one of the two outstanding Greyhound athletes of the season in Walt Smyth, top-flight timber toppler.

Smyth copped the Mason-Dixon Conference high hurdle championship, and took first place in the low and high hurdles in every meet but two. He ran second in the M-D lows, and was runner-up in both events during the meet with St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

Student Managers Lack Limelight

Publicity, praise, and backslapping are great things when a team is riding the crest of success. It is deserved and flows more freely than wine at a wedding.

But there always seems to be someone who puts in a great deal of sweat and hard work toward the team's triumphs, and yet goes unnoticed because he isn't on the glamour end of the business.

In this instance, we're speaking specifically about the student managers in Loyola sports. It is to the fellows who have towels handy for sweaty basketball players, hang up lacrosse uniforms so they'll be fresh and dry for the next test, keep the records during a track meet, line the field for a soccer game,—to these lads is owed the gratitude of every athlete who turns on a shower in Alumni Gymnasium.

To Jim Norris, cross-country; Al Glover, soccer; Tom Ostendorf, basketball; Sylvan Brown, wrestling; Jack Downey, swimming and lacrosse; George Brennan, tennis; Ed McGinty, track; Paul Muth, baseball; and all their assistants, we say, 'thanks a million, men!'

Scrivener Tops
In Intramurals

Frank Scrivener has been accorded the very deserved honor of being named the number one man in Intramural Athletics here at Loyola.

Mr. Francis Mueller, Director of Intramurals, announced recently that, with the fall and winter programs successfully completed, final tabulations were made. Scrivener had accumulated a grand total of 107 points. However, close behind were Walter Simms, with 103 points, and Bill Davis, with 101 points.

For his well-rounded and varied participation in the elaborate Intramural program, Scrivener will receive the Intramural Individual Cup. Frank, a tireless worker, was endowed with a genuine competitive spirit. His fire and drive in Intramurals is characteristic of everything he does. The award will be made at the Annual Banquet of the Athletic Association.

Mathematical System

Points were given for participation in every type of intramural activity at the College. A complicated mathematical system was devised whereby points were awarded for excellence as well as for mere participation.

The activities scheduled by the Intramural Department included Bowling, Ping Pong, Tennis, and Horseshoe Tournaments, along with a Touch Football League and a Basketball League.

Scrivener First Winner

Frank Scrivener became the first student to receive such an award. In order to amass the highest number of points, Frank was a member of the championship basketball and football teams. He also participated in the bowling and ping pong tournaments. His total may have been vastly increased if it had not been for his playing number one on the varsity tennis team.

Walter "Skinny" Simms, in placing second, gathered his points by playing on the championship basketball and football teams, and participating in the bowling tourney.

Mohler, Hughes
In All-Star Test

Superior speed and power of the North team overcame its opponent of the South last Friday night at Homewood by a score of 11-6, in the seventh renewal of the collegiate All-Star lacrosse game.

B-Squad Tennis

Colimore Eyes
The Future

The organization of the B-Tennis team was due solely to the efforts of Mr. Colimore the varsity tennis coach and his erstwhile assistant to the "B" squad, Gus Gilbert. Mr. Colimore saw the proverbial writing on the wall and realized that the "B" squad would be an excellent stepping stone to varsity material for future seasons. His idea was greeted with approval by all tennis aspirants and a team was founded.

This squad has just completed a season which was marred by only one defeat, that at the hands of the Hopkins Junior Varsity. However, Loyola retaliated and swept by them in traditional Loyola fashion in a rematch held at Hopkins. Another major victory was the trouncing of Towson State Teacher's Varsity team on the latter's court by the score of 9-0. Mt. St. Joe's tennis team also bowed to Loyola in a match held at Evergreen by a score of 4-2.

Standout Players

The team is composed of the following: George Krug, Bill McDermott, Andy O'Donnell, Bill Monaghan, Henry Linz, and Gus Gilbert.

George Krug and Bill McDermott have alternated at the number one spot. These two players are of an equal caliber and both have turned in admirable jobs for the team. Andy O'Donnell and Hank Linz besides playing fine singles, form a formidable doubles team which was undefeated in the past season. Bill Monaghan, Hank Linz and Gus Gilbert playing positions 4, 5, 6, respectively form the nucleus of the team. The team is well balanced and as a unit forms a formidable squad.

Reserve Power

It must also be mentioned at this writing that there were some reserves on the squad who filled in very well for the regular players.

Lind, Carroll Top Baseball Records

Batting and pitching records, which have just been released for the 1948 diamond campaign, place Tommy Lind at the head of the batters, and Bill Carroll at the top of the pitching staff.

Lind, regular shortstop, took over swat honors for the second straight year with a .350 average which included 27 hits and 24 runs batted in.

Carroll, posting a 4 and 2 won-lost record, supplanted Dick Farace, 1947 mound leader. The left hander tossed for 59 innings, 13 more than any other hillman.

Hot Weather
Athletes

Now that Loyola athletes have called it a year, they are turning their eyes to the enticing rewards promised by a lengthy summer. The spring semester, now in session until mid-July, will not cut too deeply into their summer plans to "make hay while the sun shines".

The golfers are ready to dig divots with the best of them in all the local tourneys. Mason-Dixon medalist Jack Cronin aspires for a qualifying berth on the contingent of five Baltimore golfers who will journey to Atlanta, Georgia, for the National Public Links Tournament.

Tennis players Jerry Laroque and Gene Nolan are casting covetous eyes on the tennis trophies that will grace coming tournaments. At this writing both boys have their hands full in the Mt. Washington C. C. event. Nolan plans to enter a few tournaments in Pennsylvania and in the nation's capitol.

Dick Farace, Jack Whalen, and Tommy Lind, erstwhile diamond performers, are now playing for the fast Brown Derby outfit, which boasts an all-star aggregation composed of ball players from the better college teams of the city.

Loyola's ace southpaw chucker, Bill Carroll, may go as far north as Nova Scotia to play his summer ball; meanwhile, he is occupying his time by hurling good ball for the Arcadia nine in Baltimore.

Crack two miler George Brown has already signed for a summer tour of duty at Camp Blackrock, as a counsellor that is, and is ready to compete in the South Atlantics on the 12th of this month. He promises to be in tip-top shape for the cross country season in the fall.

Mohler A Natural In Any Sport; Smyth Makes Sparkling Loyola Debut

MOHLER

by Gerry McCormick

In only his third season of lacrosse, John Mohler was picked to play in the annual dream affair of lacrosse, the North-South game. Johnny, along with Ed Hughes of Loyola, performed for the South in this contest.

Johnny has improved rapidly this year, and played outstandingly for the Greyhounds throughout the season. Most characteristic of Johnny is his coolness; he never gets flustered or disheartened at an unfortunate turn in the game.

Is A Natural

If there is such a thing as a natural athlete, Johnny is surely one. In high school at Mt. St. Joseph's, he played tennis, ice hockey, basketball, and was named center on the All-Maryland football team in 1944. Last year he wrestled for Loyola College; this year there was a need for a good diver on the swimming team, so Johnny obliged by taking over that spot, and very successfully, too.

Through his varied sports career Johnny has been quick to learn, and this was especially so in lacrosse.

Guarded Freeman Well

Johnny turned in his best single performance in the Maryland game when he guarded Jiles Freeman, the scoring ace. While Johnny Mohler bruised him with repeated body checks, the well known Freeman scored only one goal, a total far below his usual output.

Johnny has learned considerable lacrosse from his association with Ray Wittelsberger, veteran Greyhound defenseman. He has become smart and cautious, and he always was a rough, fearless blocker, thanks to his football days.

It is unusual that a person of Johnny's size should be such a good dodger, and this makes him very successful. Although he is a quiet, pleasant Junior off the field, Johnny is never pleasant to opposing attackmen; in fact, in the Penn State game he literally knocked himself out trying to stop his man, but he stopped him.

kees, in the third quarter scored five times before the Rebels could register.

Representing Loyola for the All-Stars of the South—players selected because of outstanding lacrosse performance this season—were midfielder Ed Hughes and defenseman John Mohler. Both saw considerable action.

Hughes, though unsuccessful in reaching the scoring column made several backhand attempts on the crease that were near misses. However, he did aid in one of the tallies. In the final quarter, he passed to teammate Charlie Herbert of Mary-

SMYTH

The recent track season produced a new star in Greyhound ranks in the person of Walt Smyth. Walt, a pre-med Freshman, consistently won his events, the high and low hurdles, and took the Mason-Dixon Championship in the high hurdles.

Never finishing worse than second place, Walt gained five victories in the high hurdles and four in the low. The only person to beat him in high hurdles was Joe Fowley of St. Joseph's, Philadelphia; Fowley is the reigning Middle Atlantic Association champ in that event.

Form Is Important

Form is the most important thing about running the hurdles; it is also the hardest to learn. That Walt has learned his lesson well is evident to anyone watching him speed over the course, outclassing his trailing competitors. Incidentally, unlike most hurdlers, Walt leads with his left leg when going over the hurdles.

Walt likes to run his own race and not consider the pace of his opponents. Nevertheless he keeps a watchful eye on them, and should one start to forge ahead, Walt will adjust his own stride to that of his opponent and wait for an opportunity to pass him.

Is Very Enthusiastic

Walt likes running because it stresses the individual rather than team play, thus, there is no one else to blame if you lose. He is very enthusiastic about running, but the high hurdles are his favorite.

In practice a whole set of hurdles is seldom used; Walt trains on only two or three until a day or two before a meet. Before every meet, disconcerting rumors circulate concerning the quality of his opponents, but Walt has learned to disregard them as he usually proves them groundless.

land, who relayed the ball to Ray Greene of Hopkins, standing to the right of the goal. Greene shot and scored.

John Mohler, considered by Evergreen's lacrosse coach, Bish Baker, as the most improved stickman at Loyola this year, made himself prominent with numerous body blocks and overall good defensive play.

One of the odd features about these two lads is the comparatively short time they have played lacrosse. Mohler started here at Loyola, and Hughes began in his Senior year at Polytechnic.

Individual Spring Records

All things taken into consideration, this has been a very successful spring season for Loyola sports. The golfers took a pair of Inter-collegiate titles, the M-D and the Maryland. Vince Colimore's net team was runnerup in the Conference, and the diamond squad met Randolph-Macon in the baseball play-offs.

Listed below are the principal individual records compiled during the recent spring season in Track, Tennis, Golf, and Lacrosse. (Baseball records will be found elsewhere in this issue.)

The most outstanding achievements were set up by Frank Scrivener and Jim Lacy, playing numbers one and three, respectively, on the tennis team. Both went undefeated in singles competition, Lacy for the second straight year.

Walt Smyth racked up a very impressive hurdles record with a total of nine first place runs in the low and high hurdles. Jack Brunk was close on his heels by winning the broad jump and 100-yard dash four times each.

Despite the M-D and Md. Inter-collegiate Championships won by Jack Cronin, Len Saltysiak topped the golfers with seven victories in ten outings. Ed Hughes paced the lacrossemen by ramming nine goals past opposing net guardians.

Intramurals

Softball Takes Over

by Bob Roesner

Spring intramurals have taken the spot light in the past week as varsity sports have bowed out. A new golf champion and a record breaking softball season has gotten under way to a clear start.

In a very close battle Cronin finally won out over Witherspoon in a long delayed golf tournament. After a difficult time Cronin finally came out on top 3-2.

Favorites Win

The favorites finally came out on top in the doubles tennis tournament. After taking three matches by forfeit, Sal Camarratta and Bill Schanberger met Jimmy O'Connor and Bill Lynch, and came out on top after three hard played sets.

A record number of teams have signed up for softball and the league is now in full swing. To date nine games have been played and the pre-season dope is running true to form with one exception. The Dead Ends, a real dark horse, are leading the league with a 3-0 record. These potent stickmen downed the Dark horses 21-2, the Mawhuth's Klub 10-4, and the Diz Kids by forfeit. Leading the Dead Ends are the Panzarella Boys along with Pondo, Payntu and Schuman.

Gizmos Are Powerful

The paper-potent Gizmos with Gus Gilbert at the helm ran over the Mawhuth's Klub 15-5 on the bats of Minert, Zedalis and Camarratta.

The other power of the league, The Diz Kids, downed a very weak Faculty Team, 18-5. The powerful combine of Szeedy Mueller, Blimp Farace and Baby Linardi was just too much for Wilson's Boys. Age and lack of speed are much against the Faculty Team.

Keen Interest

An exceptionally keen interest has been shown by the student body this spring. With the normal schedule of classes and labs eased up by the limitations of the Spring Term, more time is available to many more students for participation in outdoor activities.

This promises to make a hot race among the softballers, who are fast developing keen rivalries between the league's numerous teams.

The next issue of THE GREYHOUND will give an up-to-date survey of softball results, and a current list of the standings.

Alumni Seeking More Bowlers

The Alumni Bowling League held an election for next season at its recent banquet. Joe Donohue, Class of '40, was elected Chairman for the 1948-49 campaign.

A vote was taken and it was agreed to bowl next year at the Plaza alleys on Tuesday evenings starting at 7:15 P. M.

Those interested should contact Joe Donohue or the Alumni Office if they wish to bowl next season. Most of this year's group plan to continue next year, but there is room for possibly two more teams and also for individual bowlers.

Triple-Plated Triumph Keeps Greyhounds On Top In Mason-Dixon Conference Title Field

by Vince Bagli

It's getting to be a habit with Greyhound teams to win more Mason-Dixon championships than any other school in the conference. The 1946-47 season saw four Evergreen outfits cop the coveted laurels as the basketball, tennis, baseball, and golf teams upended all opposition.

During the seasons just completed, the basketball crown, most sought after of all championships, remained at Evergreen along with the golf and swimming diadems.

The uncrowned baseball and tennis outfits also enjoyed successful seasons, finishing second in their respective circuits.

Outstanding Basketball Team

Lefty Reitz's hardwood hotshots, one of the finest clubs in Loyola history, pounded the boards for 24 wins while dropping only seven engagements.

For the second consecutive year the Greyhound offensive was sparked by big Jim Lacy. The 6'2" southpaw bucketed 543 points to rank eleventh in the nation. Against Western Maryland he fired 44 points for the highest individual total among M-D players during the 1947-48 season.

O'Donnell Directs Plays

The dazzling floor play and accuracy of Mike Zedalis attracted many eyes and the Keystone Komet ranked second in the state with 400 markers. Andy O'Donnell continued to direct traffic on the floor and Bill Johnson was tabbed as the most improved ball player on the squad.

Coach Franny Mueller guided the Greyhound tankmen to their crown, and with the title came individual championships for diver Johnny Mohler, freestyler Jack Fisher, and distance star Jack Blondell.

Clint Bamberger won the National Junior 200 yard breast stroke championship and seven of nine dual meets during the year.

Golfers Tounce Opposition

The least talked of champs were Father Herlihy's golfers, who soundly trounced all Conference opposition and lost only to Georgetown and Villanova outside the league.

Outstanding in a star studded field was Jack Cronin, Mason-Dixon Champion and one of the finest amateur golfers in this area. Leo Haslbeck, Len Saltysiak, and Mel Beeler very capably filled the other regular positions and assisted in bringing the crown back to Evergreen.

A. A. Banquet

Loyola Athletes To Be Honored At Annual Banquet In Gymnasium

Announcement has been made by the Athletic Department that the annual athletic banquet for the members of Loyola's sports teams will be held on June 30th in Alumni Gymnasium.

This affair has become a fixture at Evergreen in recent years, and promises to be as big a hit as in former years. Letter-winners from the Soccer, Cross-country, Basketball, Swimming, Wrestling, Baseball, Lacrosse, Tennis, Golf, and Track squads will be honored.

To Be Stag Affair

It has been decided to make the 1948 banquet a stag affair, with the evening's activities to be held along very informal lines. Another change in policy will be the admittance of invited guests only. Heretofore, others wishing to attend were able to do so by purchasing a ticket.

Food arrangements are being handled by Brother Paul J. Brennan, S. J., who promises a menu that will appeal to even the fanciest connoisseur of foods.

Must Notify In Advance

Since it is imperative for proper planning that an accurate number of those expected be known in advance, all eligible letter winners who wish to attend must sign a card in the Athletic Office by June 22.

Meal Starts At 6:30

The Very Reverend Francis X. Talbot, S. J., is expected to be the principal speaker.

According to Lefty Reitz, Director of Athletics, who is planning the details for the big night, action will begin with the meal itself at 6:30 P. M.

Food will be served buffet style, and when all appetites have been satisfied, a few impromptu speeches will be made along with the various awards for athletic participation.

All training rules will be abolished for this particular evening, so a big turnout is expected.

Night School Event Gets Under Way

Something new in the way of Evening School activities has gotten under way recently with the inauguration of an intramural tennis tournament.

Play started several days ago, with eight students entered in the event. Results of the draw place Bob Pahr vs. Dick Bradyhouse, Tom Garrity vs. Phil Lohrey, Hugh Wagner vs. Doug Penniman, and Gordon Erberts vs. Johnnie Grimm.

Each match will be decided by the best two out of three sets.

Two Loyola Associates To Be Ordained Sunday

One former teacher and one graduate of Loyola College will be among 35 Jesuits who will be ordained at Woodstock College on Sunday, June 20. The Rev. Joseph B. Hanzely, S. J., and the Rev. Edward B. Rehkopf, S. J., are the two former Loyola associates who will climax their period of studies in the Society of Jesus.

The newly-ordained priests will return to their home parishes to celebrate their first solemn Mass on the following Sunday, June 27.

Rev. Joseph B. Hanzely, S. J.

The Rev. Joseph B. Hanzely, S. J., was born in Baltimore and attended Loyola High School. Upon his graduation from that school, he entered the Society of Jesus and made his novitiate at St. Andrew on the Hudson in New York. He pursued his philosophical studies at St. Ignatius House of Studies at Manhasset, New York.

After a year of graduate studies at Fordham University, he was assigned to teach at Loyola College. In 1945 he returned to Woodstock to assume his studies in Theology. Father Hanzely will sing his first solemn high Mass at St. Athanasius' Church, Curtis Bay, Baltimore. The Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., former President of Loyola College, will preach the sermon.

Rev. Edward B. Rehkopf, S. J.

The Rev. Edward Rehkopf, S. J., was born in Virginia. He attended Georgetown Preparatory School, Georgetown University and Loyola College, graduating from the latter in 1934. In September 1937, he entered the novitiate of the Society of Jesus at Wernersville, Pa. Father Rehkopf was sent to Woodstock College for his studies in Philosophy. In 1942, he was assigned to the faculty of Georgetown Preparatory School where he remained until the summer of 1945.

He returned to Woodstock College for his theological studies. His first solemn high Mass will be celebrated on Sunday, June 27. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. William E. Welsh, S. J., Rector of the Jesuit Novitiate at Wernersville.

A number of the new priests are from Baltimore and Maryland. Four received their education at Loyola High School previous to their entering the Jesuit Order.

July '50 Class Plans Outings

Two class meetings were held by the July '50 class during the past week. The two meetings were held so that all members of the class might attend.

Numerous proposals were made for some class activity in the near future. Plans are being formulated for a moonlight trip to be held by the class during July on a chartered bay boat.

To Have Orchestra

Plans for the excursion include an orchestra which would provide dance music during the cruise. An exact date will be announced in the near future as soon as arrangements are completed with the steamship companies.

Tickets will probably be made available to the entire student body so that expenses can be met.

Plan Class Picnic

A class picnic has also been planned for the end of the month. An exact date will be announced as soon as a complete list of those interested is obtained.

The picnic will be held at Alpine Beach and complete arrangements will be announced in the Sophomore Bulletin, a mimeographed sheet which made its first appearance last Monday.

Loyola Actors Play In Vagabond Show

Milton La Porte, William Mullikin, Gerald Uhlhorn and Stephen Vidali participated in a Variety show at the Vagabond Theatre on June 12.

The four members of the dramatic society had previously been members of the cast of Marelyn, student musical production. The students gave repeat performances of their respective parts in the College play.

School Calendar

The date for the elections of July '49 is as yet undecided.

June

19—Tau Kappa Alpha Forensic Fraternity holds its first annual banquet; induction of members and presentation of charter.

19—Class picnic for the former English classes I-1 and I-2 in the Delaney Valley.

21—Eating Contest in the Acorn room of the School Cafeteria at 12:30.

July

2—GREYHOUND appears in the school cafeteria at 11:00 a. m.

Rector Assigns New Gym Hours

Loyola's Gymnasium will be open to the students of the College until 6:00 p. m. on Saturday for the remainder of the Spring Term. This announcement was made by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of the College at the last Student Council meeting.

Father Talbot procured the new Gym schedule as the result of a Council resolution which was introduced by the Freshman representative a few weeks ago.

Chief Trouble Was Manager

The chief objection to the Council resolution was the lack of proper assistance in the Gym to maintain the athletic facilities for the additional time each week. The regular managers remain in the Gym until 11:00 a. m. on Saturdays.

This difficulty was overcome by the action of the administration. Father Talbot and the Council expressed the hope that the students would take advantage of the new rule.

Tennis Courts Controlled

Plans are also being formulated for the controlling of the tennis courts during the weekends so that only those connected with the College would have use of the courts.

Many used the courts without authorization and this precipitated a condition which forced many students to wait to use the courts.

Edgar Allan Poe Denies Any Interest In Poetry

by Robert S. Custer

Edgar Allan Poe

"Who? Me? Write poetry? Why, gosh no, I don't touch the stuff!" To this startling statement Edgar Allan Poe added further, "I'm a Physical Education major, and I don't plan to delve into the realm of the abstract."

Edgar Allan Poe, the great-great nephew of the famous poet and author, a night school student at the College, was interviewed recently by THE GREYHOUND. Interviews are nothing to Mr. Poe, since he and his family were technical advisors for a motion picture on Poe's life... the poet's life, that is.

Poe—"Quite A Man"

When they were advising, they did a great deal of research into Poe's life. Upon quizzing, Mr. Poe, the student, admitted that his great-great uncle was "quite a man".

He said further, "He was only able to eat one meal a day at about 3 or 4 in the afternoon and must have used other means to ease his hunger."

Has Original Poem

Mr. Poe continued, "We have only one original manuscript of his, written in his own hand and signed by him. It is a poem entitled Alone. The poem was probably inspired by the death of his young wife, who was a second or third cousin. Her death also inspired Annabel Lee. The rest of his things are in the hands of museums or personal collectors."

It all goes to prove that the inheritance of a name does not imply the inheritance of a vocation.

Mr. X. To Perform In Eating Contest

Here's something for the record! Loyola is going to have an "eating contest" on the campus next Monday, June 21 at 12:30 p. m. in the Acorn Room of the cafeteria.

That well-known epicure and gourmet, Jake Jacobowsky will take to the food in opposition to Mr. X, The Masked Marvel, whose name this paper has been unable to obtain.

It has been rumored that the Slater System will provide the necessary materials for the contest but the cafeteria administration refused to comment on the coming sports event. Well, it's different!
